

Excerpt from Antichrist: And Other Sermons These Sermons are selected from sermons preached during the past five years. Some of them have already appeared in The Commonwealth, The Church Times, The Guardian; and I have to thank the editors for permission to republish them. Although the sermons are not strung on any single thread, the volume preserves a certain unity. Stress is laid on (a) the distinctness of the Christian system, and with this (b) the conception of freedom and its relation to miracle, and (c) the hiddenness of the Christian Life, its other-worldly nature, as being lived in union with the Risen and Ascended Lord, and (d) the evils of our present industrial and social system, and in this regard the duty of severe self-examination of those united by the Communion of Saints.
