

For bravery and steadiness and endurance, Osa is the equal of any man I ever saw. She is a woman through and through. There is nothing mannish about her. Yet as a comrade in the wilderness she is better than any man I ever saw. -- Martin Johnson. Osa Johnson (1894-1953) was, with her husband Martin, a pioneer in the field of wildlife filmmaking. From the time they eloped in 1910 until Martins death in a plane crash in 1937, the Johnsons made numerous trips to the South Seas and five major expeditions to Africa. Together they produced more than fifty films, ranging from single-reel silents to feature-length sound films. The sequel to her bestselling I Married Adventure (1568361289), Four Years in Paradise (first published in 1941) tells the story of the Johnsons protracted stay at Lake Paradise in Kenya.
