Streams of Poetry, Seined from 150 Years of Prose in Worth County, Missouri is a collection of poems and prose written by people who had some connection to the smallest county in the State during their varied lives. These writings are an historical reflection of the times in which they lived. Some of the poets attended school at the Denver School House. Sales of this book will benefit the restoration project of the two-story Denver School House that is the last one to survive in the State of Missouri. Amidst these pages you will encounter a Poet Laurete, a Pulitzer Prize recipient and some of the greatest Storytellers in Northwest Missouri.
